FEATURED PEER FEEDBACK

Sophie was very honest when she didn't know something and she was equally honest in presenting what she knew. It was also nice how she echoed my points while still presenting her own, making me feel heard but also intellectually enriched.

Sophie is a great conversationalist! She asked great questions time and again, was very attentive throughout the session, and played a significant role in involving everyone in our conversation.

Self Reflection

How did this conversation challenge you or help you learn and grow?

This conversation definitely helped me grow. My partners and I had opposite views on abortion and it was interesting hearing their perspectives, gaining mutual ground, and being respectful.

In discussing universal basic income, I found that listening actively to my partner's arguments helped clarify my own beliefs and stimulated critical thinking. I gained a deeper appreciation for the complexity of economic issues.
